1-Day PM Development Seminars / Workshops

A) Leadership and Team Building

Patty Farh

Technical Resource Program Manager, Greater China Group and IT/Services Pillar Leader, HR Learning, IBM Hong Kong

The course places management skills in the context of organizational and human resources. It teaches communication and team building skills that are essential to the success of any team. This course stresses the critical importance of communication in all forms of team organizations. Students learn how to empower themselves and their team members through effective team-building. They practice key leadership and decision-making skills and gain insight into their own interpersonal and leadership types through class discussions, exercises, MBTI self-assessment instruments, and simulations.

B) From Strategy To Profit - Incorporating Balanced Scorecard and Six Sigma

William Ng

CEO, Daniel Brothers Limited

For senior executives who will transform strategic plans into initiatives that would lead to profitability. They learn how to apply the Balanced Scorecard concepts for formation of strategic plans and the core Six Sigma concepts as tools for deploying the strategies effectively.

C) Managing the Project Portfolio

Howard Vaughan

Managing Partner, IPS Associates Asia

What mix of projects will provide the best utilization of human and cash resources to maximize long range growth and ROI in your organization? This workshop will provide an industry-proven and systematic approach for aligning projects with business strategy, giving those projects the right resources, and getting them completed on time.
